Get Ready for Next Year!

By Enrico Dubach, U.R.A. President

By the time you receive this newsletter, most of us will be out in the sun talking about racquetball more than playing it. As your new President, I will be writing this column for the next year, which promises to be a great year for racquetball. We have a talented Board of Directors and racquetball is alive and well in Utah. I have been on the Board for four years now and I would like to help improve racquetball for all of us. However, we can do nothing without the support and help from you—the individual racquetball player.

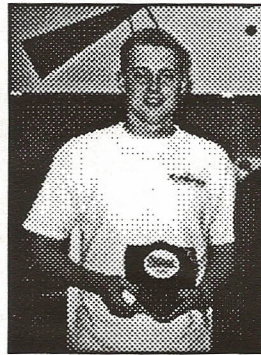

I started playing racquetball fifteen years ago. Ten years ago I started playing tournaments in the "D" division. The friends I've made as I slowly—and I mean slowly—improved will last a lifetime. Of course, winning is fun, but the ability to block out stress while hitting a ball is why I play racquetball. Let's all try to keep the "fun" aspect of racquetball our top priority.

We just finished a great year in Utah Racquetball. Nineteen sanctioned tournaments were held during the 1997/1998 season. Most had great turnouts. Some new faces made the matches pretty interesting. All of them were fun, thanks to a dedicated group of tournament directors.

It would be great if more women played racquetball. Many talented women used to play but stopped for whatever reason. If we could get those women back into tournaments, I think they would be pleasantly surprised at how much fun tournaments are.

The General Membership Meeting and Elections were held on April 4, 1998 following the State Singles Championships. Three Board Members were elected: Val Shewfelt, Marianne Walsh, and Alan Jorgensen. Val was re-elected for her third 3-year term. Thank you Val for your contribution to Utah Racquetball. We also thank Rose Hernandez for the time and effort she has contributed over the years. I'm not sure how long she has been on the Board, but I know she has served as Treasurer for at least the last six years.

TOURNAMENTS

Utah State High School Championships

By Enrico Dubach, U.R.A. President

The Utah State High School Championships were held on February 20 and 21, 1998 at the Sports Mall. This tournament was the climax of the High School League which started in October. Thirty-five players from high schools throughout the valley competed in this Olympic-format tournament. To complete the tournament, many players had to play two matches on Friday and three on Saturday. Kristen Walsh went on to take 3rd place in the National High School Championships. Congratulations, Kristen!

Marianne and Kristen Walsh deserve a lot of praise for how well the league and tournament ran this first year. Hal Johnston from Waterford School helped with the organization of the tournament and Vickie Rodman helped out with the food. Believe me, you have to have a lot of food for high school players. Thanks also to Tony Glavas and Precision Sports for arranging court time and donating prizes for the drawing at the end of the tournament. Swiss Boy sponsored the tournament, which allowed the players to participate for a five-dollar entry fee. Congratulations to the winners.

St. Valentine's Day Massacre

by Hope Hendricks, U.R.A. Board Member and Marcus Dunyon, U.R.A. Vice President

The St. Valentine's Day Massacre is always a fun tournament and this year was no exception. Tournament director Ruth McGovern always runs well-organized tournaments with good competition and great hospitality. This year, Ruth tried something different with the awards. Instead of trophies, the first place winners received a can of balls and a glove. Second place winners got a glove, and the third place winners received a can of balls. Everyone seemed to appreciate getting a useful prize.

We saw some new faces in this tournament. Jerry Schultz recently moved to the Salt Lake area. Jerry played a very controlled game to beat Clarence Verhoef in the Men's B finals. Another newcomer, Virendar Rana, took third place in the Men's 20-30+ division. A third new player—Karl Cody—took second in the Men's 45-65+ division. We always welcome new tournament participants and were pleased to meet new players, as well as seeing several players who usually don't enter tournaments.

Since this tournament was so close to the State Championships, the Men's Open division featured several top players. Tom Shearman and Sean Lucky played a tough match, with Tom pulling it out in a tiebreaker. Alan Jorgensen and Glen Aitken also had a tough tiebreaker match in which Alan won. Jerry Montanez battled it out with Don Sanderson before he won their match. Alan Jorgensen and Tom Shearman not only played doubles together, but they played in the semi-finals. Tom won this match and moved to the finals with Jerry. Jerry started quickly and maintained control to gain a two-game victory in the championship match.

For the Men's A finals, Marcus Dunyon and Eric Carver played an exciting three-game match. Marcus squeaked by with an 11-10 win in the tiebreaker. Many other competitive matches were played, with the following players taking home a prize:

Marv Jensen Spring Smash

by Marcus Dunyon, U.R.A. Vice President

The Marv Jensen Recreation Center hosted the Spring Smash from February 24 through the 28th. This event got off to a snowy start due to old man weather. All week the weather was good enough for golf. Then, the day the tournament started, Utah experienced one of the biggest single-day snowstorms in many years. But in true fashion, the players did what they had to do and most of the matches went off as scheduled. Doug Scott, Scott Rees, and the rest of the Marv Jensen staff did a great job hosting the event. Many of the top players in both the men's and women's divisions participated to gear up for next month's State Singles Championships.

The Men's Open came down to Sean Lucky and Chris Baca, both players having advanced over top competition. Sean played his lob serve game to Chris's backhand and was able to control the match and win in convincing manner. The Men's A saw a new face in the finals—Kelley Groves. Kelley played Marcus Dunyon and gave him all he could handle, but in the end Marcus was able to pull the match out in a tiebreaker.

The Women's Open brought Christine McAlpine and Susan Williams to the finals. Both women played a very aggressive game, with Susan using her quickness and Christine playing with great control. It was really entertaining to watch Christine retrieve so many tough shots. She finally came through with a win over Susan.

Luck of the Heights

by Rose Hernandez, former U.R.A. Treasurer and Marcus Dunyon, U.R.A. Vice President

It was good to see such a good turnout for the Luck of the Heights tournament. This tournament was part of the Precision Sports Challenge Series and a total of ninety-two racquetball enthusiasts participated. Female participation was low, but the numbers were higher than most other tournaments. We need to get more women involved. Sorry to those late callers who didn't make the deadline. We tried to accommodate as many of you as we could, but once the draw was set, it was too late.

The Women's Open featured a double-elimination draw. This format allows a person to lose in the early rounds but come back around through the lower bracket to challenge the winner in the upper bracket. In an early round, Susan Williams played with focus and determination to outlast Marianne Walsh. Susan's prize for this great win was a date with Kristen Walsh who has been playing in tournaments throughout the nation. Kristen and Susan played a tough match with Kristen going to the finals and Susan waiting for the winner of the lower bracket. Coming through in determined fashion was none other than Marianne Walsh. Saturday morning found Susan and Marianne battling again. This time Marianne controlled the match and went on to the finals against her daughter. This final match brought out Marianne's control and great shot selection against Kristen's youth and power. Time and a lot of matches finally caught up with Marianne who ran out of steam. Kristen powered her way to take the Women's Open Championship.

In the Women's A, Susan Williams played her doubles partner and best friend, Vicki Bennion in the finals. These two women are so much fun to watch. They dive and chase the ball around and just thoroughly enjoy playing each other. Susan may have won on this day, but watch out, Vicki is moving up fast and her time is coming.

The Men's Open Finals pitted Trevor Sudweeks—who had played a spectacular semi-final to advance to the finals—against Chris Baca. Watching these two top-notch players was the highlight of the week. Chris started fast and maintained control and Trevor made a strong comeback. But, in the end Chris won the match. The ranking points for this and other recent victories proved very valuable because the state tournament seedings were being announced in less than two weeks. Rumors are floating around that Chris may be moving back to Texas. We certainly hope this is not true.

In the Men's A division, two men who have played each other a number of times met in the finals. Chris Gale and Marcus Dunyon played their usual match with both players controlling one of the first two games and then playing a tight tiebreaker. With the luck of the Irish on Marcus's side, he squeaked out a win.

Utah State Singles Championships

by Enrico Dubach, U.R.A. President

The Utah State Singles Championships was a great success. Over 150 players from all over Utah competed in this five-day tournament from March 31 through April 4, 1998. Tony Glavas did an excellent job keeping the tournament running smoothly. Many thanks to Sudweeks Development for sponsoring the tournament and supplying the prize money.

The Men's Open Finals on Saturday between newcomer Chris Baca and defending champion Adam Anderson was exciting to watch. Adam was able to dominate and win in two games. I hope Chris stays in Utah to play next year. His sportsmanship and playing ability is an inspiration to all of us. Congratulations to all the winners!

There may be a changing of the guard in Women's Racquetball. Kristen Walsh was able to defeat her mother, Marianne in the Women's Open Finals. Kristen has been improving all year and we knew it had to happen sooner or later. Women's A finalists, Susan Williams and Vicki Bennion promise to make next year even more interesting.

As you can see, it takes a lot of work by many people to make organized racquetball function in Utah. These people made a serious commitment to Utah Racquetball by giving a little back to the sport they love. This is done on a completely voluntary basis. In today's busy and hectic life, it is very difficult to find people willing to donate their time and resources. Please give them your support.

The Player Awards for the 1997/1998 season were chosen by the U.R.A. Board of Directors. The awards were presented during the General Meeting. Congratulations to the following players for their superb effort during the last season:

Most Improved Male Player:	Spencer Crozier
Most Improved Female Player:	Susan Williams
Most Improved Junior Player:	Sam Boggs
Best Tournament Director:	Tony Glavas
Best Referee:	Jack Healy
Best Sportsmanship:	Chris Baca

Most players seemed satisfied with the mix of tournaments we currently schedule. If a person doesn't mind traveling a little, a player could play in two tournaments a month. This seems to be about right. More tournaments seem to reduce the number of players too much.

The Leadership Conference for the United States Racquetball Association was held January 16-18, 1998. Marcus Dunyon and I attended this fun and informative conference. The meetings were held at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, Colorado. We learned how the sanctioning system works and were able to discuss racquetball programs with other state association leaders from all over the United States. Utah should be proud of how many players we have considering our small population. The caliber of our tournaments is high. We can also be proud of our quality newsletter.

Some states are having a lot of success with high school racquetball leagues. Marianne Walsh deserves a lot of credit for starting the high school league in Utah. I'm a firm believer that many of our future players will be coming from the ranks of high school players. Most juniors play because their parents do. High school students play because they want to. They seem to get better every time they play. The State High School Championships were held on February 20 and 21. Thanks to Tony Glavas and the Sports Mall. This tournament brought players from all over Utah to compete at one of the premier facilities in the state.

The juniors summer league will begin during the first part of June. Juniors from clubs throughout the Wasatch Front get together each week during the summer to play. The summer climaxes with the Utah State Juniors Championships held in August. If you know kids of any playing level who would like to participate, contact Ruth McGovern at the Redwood Center as soon as possible.

We are currently preparing the tournament schedule for the 1998/1999 season. We need help with advertising or sponsorships. I have advertised my business in the newsletter and sponsored tournaments. It has been a worthwhile investment for my business as well as racquetball. If you have suggestions or can help us with any aspect of racquetball, please call me at (801) 298-5066. Have a great summer!
